

Weland Golf

Weland Golf is a suppliers of attractive and maintenance-free products for golf courses. Our range includes weather protection for driving range, golf benches and information signs.

Our promise is to deliver Swedish-made products that are maintenance-free and easy to install. Our frequent contact with clubs in Sweden has meant that we have received important information to our product development. The products can easily be combined with each other. The number of variants is virtually unlimited and it is the customer's needs which decides.

Our products can easily be provided with sponsorship messages and are the preferred choice of many clubs. Weland Golf is part of Weland Aluminium AB, which has its production in Alvesta, Sweden.
